Sunday Ball Playing.

Concumus, Ohio, June 26,-A ne urn was taken by the defense this morn ing in the cases testing Sunday base bull playing. The Brooklyns waived examination and were bound over in the sum of $50 each. When the case of the Columbus nine was reached they demunded a trial. After hearing the ase of Charley Smith, second baseman all day yesterday, he was bound over in $50. During this hearing the counsel argued the legality of the arrests made on Sunday. The defense was overruled on Sunday. The defense was overruled by the justice. When the case of Fred H. Carroll, the catcher, was called this morning it was continued until Tuesday next, in order to keep it pending while the legality of the arrests made on Sunday could be tested in the higher court. In the meantime a mittimus was issued directing the officers to keep Carroll in custody until Tuesday, and proceedings were immediately begun in the common pleas court for a writ of hubeas corpus to release him, on the ground that an arrest for misdemensor on Sunday is illegal. If released that settles the arrests during the progress of the game Sundays so as to stop them, tut arrests can follow the next day. The magistrate in order to reach them held Sunday playing to be a breach of the peace rather than a misdemensor. This is the question at issue. The cases ugainst the directors of the ball club, street railread, etc., have been continued, pending the test by the habeas corpus.

Yesterday Sheriff Will Scheifer resived from Indianapolis requisition papers from Governor Porter empowering him to proceed to Peoria, Ill., and arrest Theodore Hays and James Mullen, who are indicted for the robbery of A. Mergentheim's dry goods and notion store last year in September. It will be emembered that the thieves entered the store from a coal hole in the Main street sidowalk and curried away costly plumes, rich dress goods and the most valuable jewolry and notions aggregating in velue, if we remember rightly, about $1,500. At that time Huya and Mullen resided here and since their departure a local crook, who stood in with them, gave the job away and swore to his statement before the last grand jury, which indicted them. A few of the plumes were also found here in the possession of fernales who associated with the crooks. It is believed the fellows will tell where they disposed of the atoleu articles and most of them can then be recovered and returned to Mr. Mergentheim. Unless Huys and Mullen have been posted by pals here they are at Peoria and Sheriff Scheifer will telegraph their capture to The Sentinen in idowalk and curried away costly plumes, graph their capture to The Sentines in advance of sleepy publications here.

THE platform of the democracy of Indiana is one full of interest and of profit to the people of the state. It declares in clear and unmistakable terms for reform in all departments, for a clean, pure and economical administration of state and national affairs and for such other reforms as the people most need. There is no hesitancy in regard to its purport, nor is it filled with mesningless and unequivocal expressions. It is a platform upon which the rich and the poor may stand and it is the one upon which the democracy expect to fight and win the battle in November.

Ture funeral of the late and well beloved Bishop Simpson occurred vesterday, the remains being interred in South Walnut Hill cemetery, Philadelphia. The services were largely attended by those who knew and loved the bishop in life and who mourn his death. In his death his church loses one of its most brilliant men, a man who has labored incessantly for its up-building and advancement. He was a magnet, drawing to him all those who came under the sound of his voice and impressing them with the truth of the religion he proclaimed. His place will not soon be

THE republicans have had much to say about Tammany Hall being opposed to Cleveland and would not support him if nominated. Yesterday John Kelly was interviewed in regard to the matter and while he prefers another, it is not because of any personal feeling towards Cleveland, but only because he believes some one else to be the stronger. In his statement he gives Bayard a boom and he also gives the republicans very cold comfort in the way of factional fights or opposition. He says: "I am opposed to Governor Cleveland, but only because I believe there are other men better fitted to receive the nomination. I have been brought in contact with many people, both republicans and democrats throughout the city, and all express the wish that Bayard should receive the nomination. I hope so myself, and I believe if nominated he will be elected. The opposition to Bayard because of his so-called record is absurd. In fact I think this bloody shirt business is played out."

THE STATE TICKET.

· The democracy of the state have done a good work. Their action will be indorsed by the people and the result of the campaign will be a glorious victory in Indiana. No better, no stronger ticket could have been named and all danger of the state falling into republican hands, this year at least, has passed. The man named for the governorship has been before the public a sufficient length of time to give an idea of his ability and of his character, and these have nover been assailed. Col. I. P. Gray stands before the people as a man in whose hands the power vested in the office to which he has been nominated can safely be placed. Honest in every sense of the term, possessed with all the qualifications of the office and, above all with brains, he will fill the position with credit to himself and to the honor of the state he shall represent. His record in the past is untarnished by any political trickery, jobbery, or by anything which can reflect upon him or cast the smallest shadow around his pathway. On the contrary it will grow only the brighter the more it is investigated. As a campaigner Mr. Gray has few equals and he will conduct the campaign of the st :- in person, rallying around him all the enthusiaem which a camp gn freighted with the doubly precious load, the state and national tickets. CAD BEODSA

That gallant old war-horse, General M. D. Manson, the here of many hard fought battles, is the democratic nomines for lieutenent governor. He is known, honored and respected all over the state. He is a man among men, one of the men who served his country, as did also Col. Gray, in her hour of need, and who carries with him the scars of that war. Seeking the first place on the ticket and being defeated the democracy of the state, with unanimous voice tendered him the second place and the old general's love for his party was so great that he put away all the ambitions he once had cherished and accepted the place assigned him. There was no faultfinding, no grumbling, but a perfect willingness to take the position where his party wished to place him. Such men are to be honored and such men can be duties of his office fairly and impar

The remainder of the ticket speaks for itself. Nearly all of the state officers those serving their first term, were re nominated and their administrations stamp them as men well chosen for the positions. Their course needs no vindication, nor their conduct explanation. They are good, honorable men who have been faithful to the trusts reposed in them. The new men on the ticket are generally well known and are men of ability and of influence. In fact there is not a weak man on the ticket, not one for whom apologies will have to be made. There is not one but who can stand forth and allow his past life to be subject to the most intense scratiny. We are ready for the battle and can push the campaign. We shall be the agressors this year and Gray and Mauson shall lead us on to victory. We salute the next governor and lientenant governor of the glorious old Hoosier dominion.
